Update 05/29/2026

NOTE: All papers presented at the 2027 ACJS Annual Meeting are to be original works never published, printed, or accepted for presentation elsewhere.

All attendees at the ACJS Annual Meeting shall abide by the ACJS Code of Ethics. A copy of the Code of Ethics can be found on the ACJS website, www.acjs.org.

Submission Procedures

All submissions must be made via the ACJS submission site. Do not send submissions directly to the individual committee members. Please note that the ACJS Annual Program is created from the information you submit online. To reduce the number of errors in the program, please review and verify that all the information you enter into the submission form is complete and correct.

Program Guidelines

All program participants are required to pre-register for the conference and to provide their own transportation and meeting expenses. Pre-registration will be available at www.acjs.org on the Annual Meeting page of the website.

Abstracts should be submitted only once via the ACJS website. DO NOT SEND ABSTRACTS DIRECTLY TO THE TOPIC AREA CHAIRS. If you have questions about your submission, please send them to the Program Co-Chairs at 2027acjsprogram@gmail.com

LCD projectors will be available in the meeting rooms. No laptops/computers or overhead projectors will be provided. Additional audio/video equipment is the responsibility of the presenter. Individuals wanting additional equipment must either bring their own equipment to the conference or make arrangements through the ACJS A/V provider (information can be obtained from the Association Coordinator at dgrandy@acjs.org)

ACJS Program Participation Options

Research Showcase

The Research Showcase is a collection of visual displays of research that encourages informal interaction between authors and audiences. The primary author of a Research Showcase presentation must be in attendance and committed to standing near his or her presentation throughout the allotted session. Posters to be presented should conform to a standard size of three feet by four feet (3' x 4').

Paper Presentations

Panels consist of four or five presenters of written papers and a panel chair. Presenters make formal presentations of completed works. The panel chair opens and closes the session and coordinates questions and comments from the audience.

Student-Authored Paper Panels

Undergraduate and graduate student authors may submit their papers to a regular topical area of their choice where they will present with other faculty and practitioners. However, students have the option to submit their papers for presentation on an all-student panel. These panels are on a variety of topical areas and are designed to facilitate initial presentations in a supportive and welcoming environment.

Complete Panels

A complete panel consists of coordinating the arrangement of four papers related to a common theme. The person facilitating the complete panel must include a panel chair, panel title, and four–five papers with all supporting information for the papers at the time of submission to the website.

Roundtables

Roundtables are open discussions of a topic, organized by a moderator and four-five discussants with special knowledge or expertise in the topic area. No formal papers are presented. Often the discussion concerns diverse viewpoints or findings in a topic area.

Open Workshop

An open workshop is instructional or interactive in nature but does not require advanced registration of attendees. Typically, open workshops involve one or more presenters speaking on more practical educational issues such as seeking extramural research funding, the job search process, developing course syllabi, or entering university administration. Open workshops can also be hands-on experiences that involve the audience as participants (e.g., mock job interviews, victim-offender mediation). An Open Workshop is in a different format than a traditional panel because there are no discussants and no scholarly papers presented.

Speaker Roles

Select the role that best applies for each person affiliated with your paper submission:

- Author: An author only, not presenting.
- Author/Presenter: A lead author and presenter during the Annual Meeting.
- Presenter: A co-author presenting a paper during the Annual Meeting.
- Moderator: A moderator only, not an author or presenter.
- Moderator/Presenter: A moderator and author that is presenting during the Annual Meeting.
- Chair: Volunteer responsible for organizing, timing, and facilitating a structured discussion for a panel.
- Chair/Author: A presenting author and volunteer responsible for organizing, timing, and facilitating a structured discussion for a panel.

Other Information

Only original papers that have not been published may be submitted to the Program Committee for presentation consideration. Presentations of the same paper presented elsewhere are discouraged. In addition, please submit only one submission per lead author/presenter. If you are a lead author/presenter on more than one paper, and there is a conflict, the program committee will not be able to make any adjustments to the schedule.

There will be several workshops offered on Tuesday, March 30, 2027. The meetings and panels are Wednesday-Saturday, March 31 – April 3, 2027. Sessions will be scheduled Saturday as a regular part of the conference. Sessions may be scheduled at any time during the meetings. ACJS cannot honor personal preferences for the day and time of presentations. If a session does not have a chair, a program committee member may choose a presenter from the last paper on the session. All program participants are expected to register for the meeting. You can go to the ACJS website at <https://www.acjs.org/> to find Annual Meeting information to register online or access a printer-friendly form to fax or return by mail.
