

ACJS Seeking Applications for Justice Quarterly Editor

The Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences (ACJS) is seeking applications for the position of Editor of Justice Quarterly (JQ), an official journal of the ACJS. The JQ editor is responsible for maintaining and enhancing the reputation of the journal for the ACJS membership. The role includes the overall administration of the journal, including oversight and management of the peer review process and the appointment of deputy and associate editors (including an editor for JQ Review). The editor will also regularly collaborate with the ACJS and its publisher to set editorial policy. As a result of a recent change in ACJS policy, applications for co-editorship of the journal will be considered.

Applicants must meet the following criteria:

- Demonstrated record of scholarly activity as measured by such indicators as publications in refereed journals, book publications, and research. Strong preference will be given to applicants who have published in Justice Quarterly.
- Prior editorial experience as measured by such indicators as editorial responsibility for other scholarly publications and past experience as a referee or associate/deputy editor of an academic journal, or other editorial experience demonstrating the applicant's ability to implement and maintain the integrity of blind review, to improve or maintain the quality of the publication, to communicate effectively, and to behave in a professional manner that is supportive of the mission and goals of ACJS and consistent with the ACJS Code of Ethics.
- Commitment to the ACJS Code of Ethics, particularly to Section III.C regarding research and publication.
- Earned Ph.D. or terminal degree in area of specialization.
- Senior (associate professor or above) academic rank at host institution.
- Formal declaration of support from host institution(s), including released time, space and other support services the institution(s) will commit to editorship.

- ACJS membership in good standing for three continuous years at the time of application.

Those interested in being considered should provide a formal proposal to the JQ Editor Search Committee Chair, Dr. David Myers (dmyers@newhaven.edu) via email attachments no later than December 31, 2024. The proposal should include:

- Statement of editorial philosophy for Justice Quarterly.
- Statement of applicant's qualifications, including CV; in the case of an application for co-editorship, both applicants' qualifications should be discussed and both CVs should be included.
- Formal declaration of institutional support.

Justice Quarterly is published six times a year and JQ Review is published once a year. The Executive Board of ACJS will appoint the Editor for a three-year term.

Requests for further information should be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. David Myers, dmyers@newhaven.edu